

HATE AND THE WILL FOR POWER

Rezumat: The will for power can be compared to the genital pulsions when the processes that involve hate stem from more archaic processes that resemble the kleinian paranoid position. Our attempt is to sketch an essay in order to relate hate to the anthropological condition itself, the man being characterized as a being prone to excesses.