

XENOPHOBIA, AN ILLNESS OF SELF-BELONGING

Rezumat: From the point of view of transversal psychology, xenophobia substitutes the level of disposition: “chain reflex”, “the intruder of disposition” and “self-compassion” and at the level of behaviour, it substitutes the following parameters: the predominance of latency, the suffering of the alternative, the gregarious drive, the revenge of failure, education and punishment. The author tries to justify xenophobia by means of these parameters of transversal psychology.
