

HATE IN FRATRICIDE AND PARRICIDE

Rezumat: The narcissistic function of hate is explored by analysing the clinical observation sheets, by reading literary or sacred texts. Hate has its origins in the subject's most primitive and secret narcissistic wounds. Hate is the consequence of the objects of attachment, of insufficiently internalized objects. Hate bears within itself the seed of destruction when it is not linked to its opposite and when it is not erotized in relation with the object.

Cuvinte cheie: parricide, fratricide, narcissism, Caïn, Abel.